Show Seasonal Up Irend

ALBANY, Oct. 27.—After halting in August, the downward trend of average weekly earnings in factories in this state was resumed in September. A statement issued to-day by Henry D. Sayer, industrial Commissioner, placed the average weekly earnings of fact ry workers in September at $25.07, compared to $25.43 in August.

The most important factor in the decrease was the reduction in wage rales which went into effect in some factories in numerous industries. Another reason for the decrease was that some factories reopened and employed more lower paid help. Seasonal lack of demand and dull business conditions also affected average earnings in some also affected average earnings in some industries, and state and county fairs caused a loss of working time in some localities.

The greatest reduction in average weekly earnings occurred in the men's shirts and furnishings industry. This was largely the result of the cut in was largely the place Alexandr 22 was largely the result of the cut in wase rates, which took place August 22 when the factories in the Troy district reopened, although another cause was re-employment of large numbers of the lower paid employees. The millinery and women's clothing industries also reported important reductions in earn-ere reported in several industries, approved demand caused the upward rend in the musical instruments in-ustry, in the miscellaneous leather dustry, in the miscenaneous leather and rubber goods industries and in the printing and bookmaking industry. Increases as the result of seasonal demand occurred in the cooking and beating apparatus industry, the silk wool manufactures and knit goods injustries, and in the canned goods in-lustry. The bakery products industry also reported an important increase.

Opposes Piermont Terminal

ALBANY, Oct. 27.—The proposal of the New York Port Authority to build a terminal for the New York State Barge Canal at Piermont and divert canal freight to New Jersey ports was condemned by Nelson B. Killmer, of the New York Harbor and Development Commission, as a proposition "to rob the State of New York of the advantages of the barge canal," while speaking before the New York State Waterways Association here to-day. A resolution disapproving the plan later was introduced by Mr. Killmer and was adopted unanimously.

Harry D. Lott sold for Cahn & Cahn the three-story business building at 2394 Grand Concourse, 25x66, running through to Ryer Avenue. This buildwas introduced by Mr. Killmer and was adopted unanimously.

Former State Senator Henry W. Hill, of Buffalo, president of the association, in speaking sgainst the proposed St. Lawrence canal, said Canada was not in favor of the proposition, with the exception of the province of Ontaria, and that the real backing was to be found in the middle western section of the United States.
